

DIRECTORS GUILD OF GREAT BRITAIN

ASSOCIATE MEMBERSHIP

This is open to all who work in the various media and have an interest in the craft of directing, but who do not have the professional qualifications required for full membership.

ENTITLEMENTS OF MEMBERSHIP:

- Regular newsletters and direct Magazine. These provide insights into the contemporary working practises of British directors; keep you informed of current debates within the industry, and any forthcoming events and workshops.
- The Directory & Listing in the Directory - Name, address and contact number (not full entry).
- Participation on workshops when places are still available.
- Advice from the Office on rates and what you might expect to earn in the profession, as well as any advice we can provide on wider directing issues.
- Invites to special events that the Guild hold (if there are places available near the time).
- European and International Contacts.

PROFORMA DATA PROTECTION NOTICE

The Directors Guild of Great Britain ("Union") collects and maintains personal information in order to carry out its functions as a trade union, provide membership services and comply with certain statutory obligations. All personal information is treated with the utmost confidentiality and with appropriate levels of security. By joining the Union you agree to our processing your personal information, including sensitive personal information, such as trade union membership, for the following purposes.

The personal data will be used for a range of Union based activities relating to the running of the Union including the maintenance of records, assisting with employment disputes, ballots, injury claims etc and other benefits. All information (updated as appropriate) will be kept throughout membership and, to the extent necessary, for such reasonable period after membership as may be necessary to enable the member to access any post-membership benefits.

It will be available to our employees, officers and officials at the Guild offices and other organisations associated with the Union, including agents, contractors and other service providers. Where, occasionally, the Union uses the services of such organisations, they are contractually obliged to process your data on behalf of the Union as data processor and in a secure and confidential manner under our strict instructions.

From time to time we may wish to use the information together with any other for analysis and/or marketing purposes. In particular, this may benefit you as the Union can use its collective bargaining strength to negotiate attractive terms and the provision of a wide range of additional member benefits and to contact you with details of any that we feel may be of particular interest.

Members have the right to object to and stop direct marketing in any form by organisations contacting them on behalf of the Union. If they wish to exercise their right to object to stop such direct marketing then they should write to the Guild office requesting that such mailings be stopped, or alternatively, write to the organisation in question direct. Please however understand that this may preclude you from receiving details of any of these additional member benefits and offers in the future.

Under the Data Protection Act 1998 you also have the right to ask for a copy of your information (for which a small fee can be charged of £10) and to request correction of any incorrect information held.

This notice will be amended from time to time and will be regularly published in Union material such as (Direct Magazine and the website).
